Scholarship Opportunity Open to High School Students to Study a Language Abroad!

The National Security Language Initiative for Youth (NSLI-Y) is offering more than 600 full scholarships to U.S. high school students to study abroad and learn Arabic, Chinese, Farsi, Hindi, Korean, Russian, and Turkish. Summer and academic year programs immerse participants in the cultural life of the host country, giving them invaluable formal and informal language practice and sparking a lifetime interest in foreign languages and cultures.

The Department of State, Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs, in cooperation with American Councils for International Education, AFS-USA, and iEARN-USA, is awarding U.S. government funding to high school and just-graduated students (ages 15 – 18) to participate in summer and academic year language programs in countries where these languages are widely spoken. Previous language experience is not required and past participants of the NSLI-Y program are eligible to apply again.

Students wishing to apply for the scholarship must:

- * be U.S. citizens
- * be between 15-18 years old at departure
- * be enrolled in high school at the time of application
- * have at least a 2.5 GPA
